Euchre Tournament Rules:

Individual scoring. You have a different partner every game, although you can choose your first game partner. At the end of each game write down your point total on your score sheet and have an opponent verify it with initials. When you are done at the table, it is time to move. The winners become the "movers" and the losers stay at that table. When you move, you do not play with the same person you just played with. After each game, partners will change; choose a person you have not been partners with. If you have previously been partners with both players, then choose by cutting cards. High cardholders will partner with high cardholder, low with low. Places will be paid by highest accumulated point totals from games. Each time you get euchred, you & your partner pay a quarter to the pot. At the end of the night the person(s) with the least number of euchres wins the pot. More detailed rules will be available during the night of play.
